HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his exclusive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change in this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO SEPTEMBER 28.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Several injunctions have been issued against the Gold Exchange Bank to-day. Judge Clarke also issued several against Wall street brokers. An order of arrest was issued against James Belden on the suit of L. Hatch for secreting property to defraud his creditors. Affairs on Wall street are still kept greatly in confusion by the block in business at the Gold Exchange Bank, which temporarily keeps the gold dealers out of large amounts of money besides leaving it in doubt as to the standing of numerous firms and banks that had not yet finished Thursday's business.

Dr. Albert T. Summers, who it is alleged, was unjustly incarcerated in Cuba and had his estate and other property confiscated, has applied for an attachment against the Spanish gunboats, but he was directed to apply to the State Department.

It is rumored that 500 men left last night for Cuba, but is not traced to an authentic source.

General Clement, the new Haytien Minister, has arrived; also several naval officers who will take out the iron-clad Atlanta, recently purchased by Hayti.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The fine building on Greenwich street, occupied by several stores, below and numerous tenements above, were burned last night. Loss, $20,000. Over twenty people were rescued from death by the brave firemen.

Mahoney's kerosene factory at Brooklyn, burned yesterday afternoon. Loss, $20,000.

Last evening a fire occurred on the first floor of No. 75 Mercer street, occupied by Harlow Ray, oil paintings, valued at $10,000, was destroyed.

Senor Lemus, the Cuban Minister states that there is not a single sentence in the Cuban Constitution which contemplates anything but absolute, unequivocal freedom to slaves. The Republican leaders, long before the adoption of Constitution, emancipated their slaves. Wherever the Army of the Republic marches, freedom is proclaimed to all of every color.

An examination was held yesterday by Justice Dowling, in the case of John R. Gould, a Wall street broker, who is accused of outraging the person of Mrs. Anna Mead, No. 73, President street, Brooklyn. The complainant was cross-examined at length by the counsel for the defence, who sought to damage her reputation by a series of singular questions. The examination will be resumed to-day.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Official returns show a large increase in the number of passengers arriving in the United States during the quarter ending in June. The whole number was 177,582, of whom nearly 66,000 were females.

In pursuance of an act of Congress, the property of the United States at Harper's Ferry is to be sold.

Earthquake in the West Indies.

HAVANA, Sept. 27.—St. Thomas advices are to the 18th. Three shocks of earthquake occurred. Seventeen stores had closed and business was suspended. No lives are known to have been lost. General alarm prevailed.

St. Domingo advices are to the 9th. Baez had defeated the rebels besieging Agna.

Steamship Lost.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28.—The steamship Trade Wind was lost in a gale on the 24th. The passengers were saved, but a part of the crew are missing.

Prince Arthur in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Prince Arthur and the Governor General of Canada visited Buffalo to-day, and drove about the city. They lunched with Ex-President Filmore.

Arctic Explorations.

ST. JOHN, N. F., Sept. 27.—The expedition of Dr. Hayes and Bradford, the artist, returned from the arctic regions, entirely successful in every object and all well. They penetrated to the middle ice in which the British whaler Alexandria was crushed and lost.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 27.—Dr. C. F. Hall, with Elbernurg and Loo Koolite, two Esquimaux, and three daughters, arrived yesterday on the ship Assiqibbs, from Repulse Bay August 23d. Dr. Hall brings as the result of his five years residence in the arctic regions, interesting intelligence of the death of Sir John Franklin and company, and proof that none of them ever reached Montreal Island. He states that he saw the natives who were the last to look upon Crozier and party. The Doctor also brings the remains of a young man who belonged to that expedition; also various relics of his explorations. Dr. Hall proposes to start again next spring and push his journey to the North Pole. He regards the experience of the last ten years invaluable to him as preparation and aid hereafter. He found where Sir John Franklin and company died. He erected monuments, fired salutes, and waved the Star-spangled banner over them in memory of the discoverers of the North-west passage.

Canada Dispatches.

ST. CATHERINES, Canada, Sept. 27.—John D. Culver, a banker, absconded on Saturday with from $20,000 to $50,000. Several bankers and a number of business men are sufferers.

OTTAWA, Canada, Sept. 27.—Application will be made to Parliament for a charter for a Union Pacific Railroad from a point on Lake Superior via Red river, to a point on the eastern boundary of British Columbia; also for a charter for a railway from Renbina, via Fort Carry, to a point on Lake Winnepeg, or Saskatchewan river, with power to improve the navigation of that river.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—Thomas J. Stones, alias Carter, has been arrested in New Hampshire, charged with obtaining several thousand dollars in this city by selling counterfeit bonds.

Fire at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 27.—A fire, this morning destroyed Hope cotton mills, owned by A. H. Childs & Co.; loss $150,000, about two-thirds insured. Three hundred persons are thrown out of employment.

The Avondale Relief Fund.

PLYMOUTH, Pa., Sept. 27.—The Trustees of the Avondale Relief Fund have adopted a plan for the distribution of the funds. The first year each widow will be paid two hundred dollars in equal monthly payments, and each boy under fourteen and each girl under sixteen, one hundred dollars for the same period. Five thousand dollars were voted to meet the special cases not provided for in the foregoing provision. The remainder of the fund is about $40,000. It will be carefully invested and constitute a permanent fund—one-third for the widows and two-thirds for the orphans.

Cuban Affairs.

HAVANA, Sept. 27.—The telegram sent on Saturday, relative to the surrender of Gen. Jordan and his troops upon payment by the Government of certain sums of money, was based upon official dispatches. It is reported that the insurgents in the neighborhood of Yoguaracoas and Pair are treating with the Spanish authorities relative to surrender. This surrender is important if true. Rebel bands in this quarter have been nearest to the sugar districts.

Advices from Porto Rico to the 9th, say the new tariff on merchandise will go into operation on the first of January. The Island is perfectly quiet.

Carracas advices say President Monagas is actively engaged in preparing for a campaign against the Government. A Venezuela man of war, the Bolicia, is blockading Maracaibo. The typhoid fever is raging at Curacoa. Guzeman Blanco is still at Curacoa plotting against Monagas.

Horse Thieves in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—An extensive gang of horse thieves, embracing, it is said, several well known heretofore respectable citizens, has been discovered in Charlotte county in this State. Their operations are extended across the Iowa line.

Labor Reform.

WORCESTER, Sept. 27.—The State Labor Reform Convention will meet to-morrow, and promises to be large and enthusiastic. A ten hour State Convention, called by the factory operatives of Fall river, was held to-day. Resolutions were adopted pledging the members to secure by all honorable means, the enactment of a law prohibiting manufacturing corporations from employing females or minors more than ten hours, and calling on the candidates for State offices at the coming election to pledge themselves to support such a law.

Finances.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the assistant Treasurer of New York to sell a million of gold each Tuesday and Friday till November 1st; also to purchase $2,000,000 bonds each Wednesday till November 1st. These sales and purchases are to be in addition to those on account of the sinking fund, which will be continued without change.

The elections in Mississippi commence December 1st.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The gold exchange bank has declared its intention of settling all claims on last Friday's transactions at 10 o'clock to-day. Those who fail to effect clearances by half past 10 o'clock, will not be allowed to have any transactions with the Bank hereafter. It is believed no well known house failed by Friday's transactions. The broker firm of Livermore & Co. suffered severely. They positively declare they had a written order from James Fisk, Jr., to buy one million dollars up to 160, giving Heath & Co. as backers. The order was given in the presence of a member of the firm of Heath & Co. It was repudiated by him yesterday. Livermore and partners have been trying to find Fisk since yesterday morning, but no trace of him, though they believe that he is still in the city.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—A Tribune special says opinions vary as to whether the bulls made or lost money by Friday's transactions. The amount of capital with which the combination was formed was about forty millions of dollars, and the business conducted on this was about one hundred and twenty millions. It was not the four million dollars offered by Boutwell that broke the combination, but the belief that he would sell an unlimited quantity and give out more gold than the bulls could possibly take.

Belden has not been seen around Wall street since Friday but his friends deny that he absconded with several millions of gold checks, and say he will appear all right to-morrow. Many financiers believe that the statement of the Gold Exchange Bank shows a favorable condition of affairs. There will be renewal of speculation in any event on Monday. It will be an exciting day.

It is ascertained that the Tenth National Bank was sustained by other banks, who thought it best to supply it with currency and keep its credit good, as its suspension was likely to cause a run on others. Probably there will be many withdrawals of money to-day from other banks.

Disastrous Explosion.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—The powder mills, five miles north of Xenia, exploded yesterday afternoon, killing a colored boy and prostrating five horses.

Boston Dispatch.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The jury in the Supreme Court, awarded $7,950 damages to S. O. Pollard against the town of Worben, for permanent injuries sustained by the plaintiff by a defect in the highway.

George Springer who was committed to jail for placing obstructions on the track of the Lowell and Lawrence Railroad, hung himself last night.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The associated banks of this city have informed non-resident stockholders that by a recent decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Massachusetts they must pay the State tax on shares. Two taxes are now assessed for 1868 and 1869.

New Orleans Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28.—There are no further tidings of the lost Trade Winds. The roughness of the gulf causes apprehensions for her safety.

The Crescent newspaper establishment, including four cylinder Hoe presses, has been bought by the daily Republican.

Specials from New York say a meeting of the gold clique was held on Thursday evening, at which Fisk, Gould, Woodward and others were present. Woodward advised that the shorts be squeezed at 145, as it would ruin the street to go higher, but Fisk insisted on carrying the prices up to 160, which was accordingly done.

The Episcopal Convention closes to-morrow. A stirring time is expected, as several dioceses are determined to bring up the subject of Ritualistic services in St. Albans Church. If the convention disapproves that service, it is expected that the Rector, Worrell, will be brought to trial. Dr. Evans of Boston will also be questioned for calling Protestantism a failure.

A Cuban Privateer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Cuban privateer Hornet, which sailed some time ago from a British Province, where she was detained for a time, is on her way for Cuba, if not already there. It is the intention of her commander to keep a sharp lookout for the island; also for the regular steamers plying between Havana and Spain, carrying the Spanish flag. The Hornet is a fast-sailing vessel, and can probably get away from any Spanish man-of-war. She can fight. It is thought by Cubans here that the Hornet can engage any vessel in the Spanish navy with one or two exceptions. She will take prizes into Mexican ports, that country having acknowledged belligerent rights.

State Fair Opened.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—The State Fair, opened at Decatur yesterday. Already over three thousand entries have been made, and appearances indicate the most successful State Fair ever held in the West. The exhibition of horses and cattle especially, will far surpass anything of the kind ever before held in this country. The State Fair of Indiana and Wisconsin were also opened yesterday. Both exhibitions promise well.

Railroad Work.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 28.—Track laying continues on the Utah Central Railroad, but is retarded by want of plate at the crossing of the Union Pacific Railroad, in consequence of which, the material required, has to be taken on hand cars. This will be remedied in a few days and the bridge over the Weber will be completed in about the same time, when the engine will be put on the line and work expedited. With the completion of the Weber bridge, the track will be ready for the rails for twelve miles. A large number of men are at work on the remainder of the road to this city completing the grading. It is expected that the cars will run to this city during November.

Advices from Southern Utah state the Mosquis had been attacked by the Navajoes recently near the Colorado and robbed of their sheep. One of the Mosquis and three Navajoes were killed. The Navajoes, it is said, intend shortly to make another raid upon the settlements in Southern Utah. The people are preparing to give them a warm reception. A number of men have been sent out to the Mosquis Mission, which lies about eight days' travel southeast of St. George.

Montana News.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 28.—A special from Helena, dated Sept. 27th, says that on the 20th, James Quabes, while out hunting for stolen stock, near Silver City, was murdered and stripped of everything by Indians. The Indians approached in broad daylight within one hundred yards of Silver City, and have run off nearly every head of stock in that vicinity.

It is estimated that the wheat crop of Montana Territory this year is fifty-five thousand bushels.

Dead Body Found.

TOANO, Nev., Sept. 27.—A body was found today six miles from this place, supposed to be that of L. B. Kibbe. Letters were found near the body from Roundhead, Ohio, and an album dated, St. Albans, Vermont. The body was decomposed when found. It is supposed he was murdered.

Disturbances in Spain.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—A Herald special says London news reports from Spain to-day are exciting and even of an alarming character. Popular disaffection and disloyalty to the existing Government prevails very generally throughout the nation. Both have again been expressed in the shape of an armed counter revolution. There was an insurrectionary demonstration made by the volunteer troops in Barcelona last night, occasioned by the receipt of a Government order commanding the volunteers to disarm, and an attempt on the part of the local authorities to enforce it. The fact that the volunteers of Tarragona, who refused to disarm previously were suffering imprisonment for the offense was more cause for additional excitement. In a short time five barricades—one built by public cartmen—were thrown up. The cartmen's barricade was assaulted by regular troops and carried by a bayonet charge after a very desperate resistance on the part of the defenders and a heavy loss of life. Some of the most active participants were made prisoners during the engagement. The insurgents had 24 killed and a large number wounded. The Spanish troops had two commissioned officers killed and several soldiers wounded. Order was subsequently restored. A Radical Republican Democratic demonstration is announced in Madrid during Wednesday, Sept. 29th. More trouble is anticipated on that occasion.

Rain in Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—Reports from the interior of the State say a heavy storm prevailed and that the Schuylkill at Reading had risen four feet.

Cincinnati Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 27.—A big row occurred in a coffee saloon to-day in Dayton. John and Charles Stout (brothers), were stabbed fatally. The men foremost in the affray have been arrested.

Twenty masked men rode into Lancaster, Garrard county, on the 22d, took a colored man from jail and hung him. The same gang a few nights before cowhided Walter Besutton and Mr. Hutchinson, and ordered them to leave the county.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—The Turque, semi-official journal in this city, publishes a violent article against the Viceroy of Egypt for his action in resisting the terms of arrangement with the Sultan, embraced in the second letter; also for his proposal to refer the whole matter to the arbitrament of the Great Powers. The Turque concludes this editorial by recommending the Porte immediately to dismiss Ismael Pasha and appoint Mustafa Tasil Pasha Viceroy of Egypt.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The correspondent of the Post says the interest in Cuban matters is increasing. The public must not expect to learn precisely the intercourse between Madrid and Washington. It is a difficult game that is to be played in order to avoid wounding Spanish pride.

Gladstone, in reply to a petition for amnesty for the Fenian prisoners, submitted the petition to the Queen, but did not pledge the Government to any particular action on the subject. He acknowledges the soundness of judgment exhibited by the petitioners in attaching their true character to the offenses committed.

Jeff. Davis sailed for America on Thursday.

The News of to-day says it is reported that the object of Lord Clarendon's visit to Paris was to announce to Napoleon the arrangement between Austria, Prussia, Russia and England to protect the peace and check the contagion of revolution in France in case of the Emperor's death, but not to thwart German unity.

The Times in an article on the cotton question says cotton is dear with the increased production because of a new spinning country digging against them. Liverpool quotations are unintelligible. The spinners not only carry off the new material but curtail the demand for our manufactures. The state of trade is unintelligible also. On those suppositions it is useless to cry for more and cheaper cotton. The evil is arising only from the loss of the monopoly of cotton. The demand is limited and competition diminishes our share. Six pence per pound would bring the trade back to England. We lost it by the loss of the raw material.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Meetings have been held at Dublin, Roscommon and Cork in favor of the amnesty to the Fenians. Meetings to support tenants' rights have been held at Marribonaught.

The Times in an editorial on the relations of England to the United States says, the progress and results of the negotiations on the Puget Sound question shows that Englishmen and Americans can keep sufficiently above the mists of national prejudices and apply common principles of equality to the settlement of international difficulties. The work was a trying one for arbitration and any decision would have been satisfactory. The most agreeable feature of this negotiation is the judicious temper displayed by the gentlemen conducting the inquiry.

The San Juan and Alabama questions are the only ones now left outstanding. These if brought to arbitration by the same hands, could scarcely resist the anxiety of these commissioners to do justice and equity without fear, favor or affection for their own country, which has distinguished the arbitration of their claim.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—Reports from Rome say that the case of Father Hyacinthe will be submitted to canonical investigation, which will probably result in his excommunication.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—At one o'clock this morning two men were assaulted by a gang of roughs on Mission street, near Maine, and badly beaten and robbed. One of them offering resistance was severely cut and terribly bruised. Five watchmen witnessed the whole affair but offered no assistance.

At one o'clock this morning a fire broke out in St. Pierre House, corner of Perry and Fourth streets, and was under full headway before discovered. The inmates barely escaped with their lives. Captain Hanan, of the Police force, and Henry Rosenkamp, foreman of Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, rescued several women and children from the burning building at the risk of their lives. Too much praise cannot be given these heroic men. First Assistant Engineer Barker, while heading a party on one of the balconies, fell to the ground, a distance of 50 feet, badly breaking one of his hands and receiving severe internal injuries. Thieves were on the ground and considerable property was stolen. Miss Simmons lost $500 worth of jewelry, Mrs. Keane lost $400 in coin. The buildings were all owned by Mr. Hastings, and were damaged probably $30,000 altogether. Nos. 178 and 180, fronting on Perry street were new. Two frame buildings and the St. Pierre House were only recently completed and occupied. The amount of insurance on the buildings cannot be ascertained. Loss sustained by Mrs. Keane, proprietor of the St. Pierre House, will amount to $8,000; insured $1,500 in the Home Mutual and $1,500 in the Hamberg and Bremen. One of the dwellings on Perry street was occupied by the family of Mrs. Simmons. Their loss is about $4,000; insured for $1,000 in the Union Insurance Company. The other house, No. 181, was occupied by three families, whose loss was about $2,700. The two buildings were worth about $6,000. The corner street floor of the Fourth street row was occupied as a liquor saloon by John Armstrong. Stock insured for $2,000. No. 419, a restaurant, occupied by Louis Berderman, loss $2,000; insured $1,000. Next, No. 421, a bakery, occupied by Crowley & Co., lost about $1,500; no insurance. No. 423, a fruit and peanut stand, occupied by Hugh McCaffery; no insurance; loss slight. Next to this and adjoining the St. Pierre House was a dwelling occupied by Thos. Fisher and family. The flames did not reach it, but the house was deluged with water and damaged to the extent of $2,000; no insurance. The fire is said to have originated in Berderman's kitchen.

The residence of William D. Littlefield, at Folsom was partly destroyed by fire to-day. Loss $3,000.

The San Francisco Gas Company declared a dividend of ⅞ per cent. for September, payable on the 10th proximo. The dividends have heretofore been only ½ per cent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Mark Elphman, a boy aged 15 years, was shot through the head and instantly killed, by some unknown person, at half-past eight last evening. He was descending the stairs to the Crystal saloon, a cellar on the corner of Kearney and Jackson street, when the shot was fired. Why the deed was done and by whom is beyond conjecture.

An Italian was found on the corner East and Washington streets, last night, with a severe knife wound on in his abdomen. He refused to give the name of his assailant, and now lies at the Italian hospital in a critical condition.

At half past two this morning a fire broke out in the rear 811 Sansome street, a frame house owned and used as a store-house by Dewitt, Kittle & Co. The flames communicated to adjoining buildings, the upper part of which was occupied by two families. The ground floor of both buildings beings stored with oil and oakum. The destruction was complete. A man named John Ide, 40 years of age, perished in the flames. Joseph Bloss was severely burned before he could be rescued. Loss estimated at from $10,000 to $20,000. Fully insured.

Thomas O'Dell was arrested this morning charged with attempting to kill Wm. Saffan, an old hand-cart man.

Judge Rix has withdrawn his name as candidate for Police Judge, and James C. Caty has been nominated in his place on the Independent ticket.

The following is the result of the cricket match to day, at the recreation grounds, between the Red Stockings eleven, of Cincinnati, vs. all California eleven. Red Stockings scored in one inning 118 runs, to 79 in two innings by all California, winning the game by long odds.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 29, 1869.

Fluctuation in Gold.

The recent gold fluctuations,—we speak not of those which were produced last week by a combination of the bulls in New York,—have occasioned a good deal of surprise, and their cause is not generally known. It will be remembered that gold was recently down to 131, and in the course of a few days thereafter it rose steadily till it reached the neighborhood of 140. How is this rise to be accounted for? New York financial authorities do it in this way: Being disappointed in the anticipated heavy export of specie, a large number of speculators, who had purchased for a rise, thinking that the exporters would be compelled to come to their terms, were obliged to throw their lots on the market, bringing the prices down to 131. Indeed, many thought the market ought to have gone down below 130. But it is stated that a number of wealthy operators held sums to the amount of millions of dollars, which they had bought as high as 140, and held at the loss of eight per cent. When they had purchased this gold the market was largely oversold; or to explain to the uninitiated, certain operators had sold to deliver at a future time, or sold to deliver immediately, and borrowed the gold therefor. Of course this borrowed gold they would have to replace at a future time. In the meantime, the operators who held at 140 encouraged these transactions for future delivery, and this borrowing of gold to be replaced on demand. And not only so, but they went into the market and bought many millions more, to be added to their original stock, thus locking up an unusually large amount of the precious metal. This "lock up" of course scared the "short" party, who now began to try to cover their future contracts, and to pay what they had borrowed. This is what caused the late rebound from the neighborhood of 130 to 140.

The above, as we gather from a leading Eastern journal, is the history of some of the "regular" transactions in the money market. The tremendous panic of last week was got up on the same general principle, but was a much "bigger thing." The gold market is affected by so many artificial influences that fluctuations in it are inevitable.

Co-operation.

Co-operative societies were the subject of an interesting paper read before the Labor Congress recently in session at Birmingham, England. A distinction was drawn between co-operation, which respects the distribution of the products of labor, and industrial partnership which represent manufacturing. The following plan for an industrial partnership was suggested: The entire stock or plant to be valued and shares issued to represent it. The proprietors of the works, who hold the chief shares, to have the chief management, with the right to fix the profits due at seven, ten, fifteen or twenty per cent., according to the average of the profits of the business conducted, and any profits arising afterwards to be divided among the shareholders according to their shares and among workmen according to their wages. The workmen who are shareholders will then have two dividends, one on their shares, the other on their wages. The effect of this plan, it is asserted, would be that men would take an interest in their master's business, and take pride in their work and in the renown of their employers. In this way the employes would create new profits which otherwise would not exist—they would put their good will into the work instead of their ill-will; they would put their best skill into it instead of striving to ruin it. At the Whitwood collieries, it was asserted, some $30,000 a year had been made in this way—$15,000 went to the men and $15,000 to the proprietors, who were thus rewarded for their trust and sagacity.

In General.

Our exchanges are full of articles setting forth the advantages of a proposed railroad from Portland, Maine, to Chicago. The want of a railroad connecting the Northeast with the West by a more direct route than any now traversed is strongly set forth. A Convention is to be held at Oswego (N. Y.) on the 6th October to consider the scheme. It is a project which is looked upon as an adjunct to the North Pacific road, and if carried out will doubtless contribute great strength to that enterprise.

The "Reform League," a free-trade association, demands the absolute repeal of the duties on iron. Nothing could be more impractical than such a demand as this. The production of iron is an industry in which too many Americans are vitally interested. The example of Great Britain is pointed at. It is true that Great Britain preaches free trade, but she practices it only just so far as it pays. She raised the tariff on iron seventeen times in the course of one hundred and fifty years, and at last, about 1820, when she could undersell the world with her capital, experience and cheap labor, she took off all duties and loudly praised free trade in iron. This has been her course in regard to many other products. But she retains the duties on many articles of prime necessity and realizes almost as large a tariff revenue as the United States obtains.

The next apportionment, (which will be made under the Fourteenth Amendment), will materially reduce California's representation in Congress. There are probably 180,000 adult males in the State, but not less than 60,000 of these are Chinamen. As Chinese cannot become voters, the rule prescribed by the Fourteenth Amendment will apply, viz: The representative population will be reduced in the same proportion that the number of adult males excluded bears to the whole adult male population. Now one-third of the adult male population of California are Chinamen. The whole population of the State, Chinese and all, is probably 600,000. But one-third of the adult male population being denied the right to vote, the basis of representation, viz., 600,000, must be reduced in the same proportion. This will leave but 400,000, giving the State but two and a fraction, instead of four full Representatives which it would have otherwise. Thus 140,000 whites will be practically disfranchised along with 60,000 Chinese. The great thing to be feared is that the Democrats of California, in order to obtain the two additional Congressmen, will enfranchise the Chinamen.

And now comes the Corvallis Mercury, anxious to establish its claim to be considered a member of that association known as the assinine press of Oregon. It tells us that our national debt is now greater than it was in April, 1865, and wants the OREGONIAN to explain this in a way that will "be consistent with the ever recurring monthly declaration that the debt is decreasing." In April, 1865, the great war was virtually ended, that is, actual hostilities had ceased; but we still had under arms one million of men who were to be mustered out and paid off. Vast contracts had been made for war material which were still to be paid. Most of the men were mustered out in June and July, and it was necessary to raise money by loans to pay them and meet other large expenses incurred in suppressing the rebellion. This increased the debt from $2,366,955,077 in April, 1865, to $2,757,689,571 in September of the same year, since which last date the debt has been decreasing until it now amounts to $2,481,566,736. The Corvallis paper evidently supposes that one million of men could be dismissed from service and paid off without the expenditure of a dollar, and that it should have cost nothing at all to bring the great war to a close. The same paper wants to know if "the OREGONIAN will gainsay the fact that the debt is larger at the present time than it was four years ago?" This pretended "fact" is just like most other "facts" asserted by the assinine press. The debt is now just $276,132,835 smaller than it was four years ago,—that being the difference between the figures at which it stood in September 1865, viz., $2,757,699,571, and the debt statement, viz., $2,481,566,736, made in September, 1869.

We had supposed that the editor of the Albany Democrat was too intelligent to join with the grossly ignorant of his editorial brethren in asserting that the States now have a right to impose special taxes on Chinese which the Burlingame treaty, when ratified, will take away. He ought to know in the first place, that a State has not and never had this right to make Chinese, or any other foreigners coming into or residing within its borders, pay special taxes. And in the second place he ought to know that as the States have not and never had this right, the Burlingame treaty cannot take it away from them. He says "California and Oregon once had entire control, each for itself, of this question, and inasmuch as it is of a local and domestic nature they ought to have it." Now, if they ever had it they possess it still, for Burlingame's treaty has not yet been ratified. The whole matter stands precisely as it did years ago. Neither Oregon, California or any other State has power to prescribe on what conditions Chinese or other foreigners shall come into or reside within its boundaries; and by consequence they have no power to tax Chinese or other foreigners beyond the amount imposed on other residents. The Supreme Court of California pronounced such taxation unconstitutional long before the Burlingame treaty was thought of. The same result would have been witnessed in Oregon had there been any special taxes worth making a contest about, imposed on Chinese. Oregon never had any more right to require of Chinamen the payment of special taxes above the amount assessed upon other residents, than she has to require the same thing of Irish or Germans who come into the State.

Mare Island Navy Yard.

[From the San Francisco Commercial Herald.]

For some time past unusual activity has prevailed in our Navy Yard at Mare Island, furnishing a theme for comment as the prelude to some grand political move by the Government. The Alabama question and the recognition of Cuba were prominently suggested as possible reasons, and their presence upon the board has doubtless influenced the Navy Department to some extent. There are, however, other reasons quite as cogent. When the rebellion broke out there was but one serviceable ship in commission on the Atlantic Coast. The naval strength of the country was either in foreign waters or laid up in ordinary at the various yards. The sage aphorism, "in time of peace prepare for war," had always been disregarded in every point. Government possessed no means of its own to supply the deficiencies. Hundreds of war ships were built by contract, and in nearly every case of green timber, with insufficient fastenings and inferior capacities. Time, was the one thing needful; immediate service, the great object. After the war many of these ships were disposed of at public auction at prices ludicrously at variance with their cost. The experiment was too expensive to be renewed; the risk too great to be again incurred. The only place where American squadrons in Pacific waters can be repaired and got ready for action is Mare Island. All our maritime interests on the western coast of South America and Mexico, India, China, Japan, and the North Pacific, must be protected from that Navy Yard. Until recently it has not possessed the requisite adjuncts. It was incapable of supplying the requirements of large ships, steamers, and monitors. This inability crippled our naval service in the Pacific and made a big bill of expenses to the Government. A disabled vessel from any of the three squadrons employed in these waters, was obliged to make the trip around the Horn to seek an Atlantic yard. It will be so no longer. Foundries have been established lately at Mare Island, capable of turning out any piece of machinery for the largest war steamers, and doing all the work required by first class monitors and iron-clads. Saw mills have been erected to manage and fashion timbers of any shape and size. The Marine Hospital will be second to none in the Union. The marine barracks are on a commensurate scale, and the officers' quarters of proportionable dimensions and excellence. Fifteen hundred men are actively employed on various works. The monitors are ready for service and can be sent to sea in forty-eight hours. All the wooden ships of the navy, susceptible of active service, are being got ready with dispatch, and the contract-built vessels, such as the Ossipee, Lackawana, etc., are undergoing the most thorough repairs. Should a ship in any of the three squadrons be disabled, telegraphic notice of the fact will be sufficient to send another to her station without delay. This display of promptitude and a knowledge of our ability to maintain it must not only lend additional prestige to our naval power, but tend to give the Pacific Coast far more national prominence than it has heretofore enjoyed.

JAPAN.—The Yokohama Gazette of August 23d has the following relative to the political condition of Japan:

The politics of the country are in no more settled state that we have previously described. We are informed, that the Parliament, previous to its closing, passed a law that all Daimios should yield up their territories to the Mikado, sinking their old position of semi-independent princes, and becoming mere nobles. We presume that the exact meaning is, that they no longer have their own clansmen under arms as before, but that all arms-bearing men should be soldiers of, and paid by the state. And as the expense of keeping up the army will now be borne by the government, the Mikado is only to allow them one-tenth of their old revenues. Thus the richest Daimio in Japan, whose revenues of old were valued at more than £1,000,000, sterling will only receive £100,000. How the great men will take this remains to be seen. The principle is good, undoubtedly, and if it can be honestly carried out, and the chiefs of the government sink alike their ambition and their jealousy, and work for the true advancement of the country and not of themselves, it will be an immense stride.

Trenton, N. J. is on a broad grin over a huge joke which has unintentionally been perpetrated on some of its highly respectable citizens. An enterprising colored man devised a petition to the Common Council of that city, asking for an enlargement of the school-house for colored children. The thought occurred to him that the signatures of certain white folks might be serviceable, and he applied for and obtained a large number. The petition commences: "We, the parents of the colored children!"

The Vicksburg Republican states that there were but three Republican newspapers issued in Mississippi one year since, whereas there are now sixteen, and several more will soon be started.

Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, is about to establish a banking house in London, of which Hon. Mr. Ross, Finance Minister of Canada, will be the head.

The south end of Main street, Olympia, is to be straightened and run into the woods. It has been running into the woods crookedly for about twenty years.

THE WEST.

The millers at Walla Walla are now buying all the wheat offered, at 80 cents cash.

Shipments of coal from the Bellingham Bay mine for the year ending July 1st were 20,901 tons.

Surveys of public lands are being prosecuted in several parts of Montana, and many persons are settling on farms.

A movement is on foot to divide Walla Walla county and organize a new county of that part of which Waitsburg is the center.

Petitions are being circulated at Walla Walla for the creation of a land office at that place. There is really need of a land office there.

A young man named Buchanan, who was teaming near Lewiston, was run over by a wagon the other day and severely, perhaps fatally, injured.

Judge Dennison and Dr. Baker have been appointed as delegates from Washington Territory to attend the National Capitol Convention at St. Louis.

The Deseret News is dressed in mourning on the occasion of the sudden death of Elder Ezra T. Brown, one of the Twelve Apostles of the Mormon Church.

Now that Virginia City (Montana) has secured the capital permanently, it is proposed to supply that favored place with water by a ditch from Stinkingwater river. The old question recurs, "What's in a name?"

The Helena Herald of September 17th says: Capt. Mutter, who for the past month has been engaged in raising recruits to fight the Indians on Sun river, or to protect the peaceable settlers in that region, left to-day with a company of thirty men. The Captain is determined there shall be no more Indian depredations on that classic stream.

OREGON.

About 1,000 tons of hay have been cut in Goose Lake Valley to winter stock there.

Wm. Clingan, of Dallas, has a hog with seven ears, says the Times; several are well-defined and the others are growing. That's a huge story, but perhaps the hog is in proportion.

The Polk county paper kindly states that "five families out of sixty in [illegible] Marion county are without a copy of the bible." That may be; and it is curious to observe the comparison between this proportion and the [illegible] Democratic vote of the county.

The Statesman says: Portland folks complain that times have been hard and money scarce the past summer, but the many elegant blocks of brick stores now going up in that enterprising city show that even if times are not so flush as they have been at some past period, they lack much of being hard up there.

The Sentinel relates the following: Last week a colored man, named Mat Banks, was examined before Judge Duncan on charge of insanity. The principal evidence to that effect was disturbing his neighbors by praying and singing hymns. On being asked what defence he had to make, he remarked that "Jacksonville was getting to be a mighty rough place if a poor man couldn't pray to his Heavenly Father without being jerked up on a charge of being crazy." He was discharged.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, Nev., Sept. 28.—J. D. Bray, who stabbed William Bennetts in an affray at Gold Hill Wednesday evening, had an examination yesterday and was bound over in the sum of $1,000, to appear before the grand jury. Bennetts is lying in a critical condition.

At 7½ o'clock this morning, the first spike of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad was driven at Carson and at 10½ o'clock a locomotive was running on the track. It is expected that the track will be laid to this city in thirty days.

WM. H. SEWALL and J. B. SPRENGER

Take this method of notifying their friends, the traveling public, that they have disposed of their interest in the Western Hotel, and hereafter will continue to manage the COSMOPOLITAN, which in the future as in the past, will always maintain its reputation as the BEST and only FIRST CLASS Hotel in the city.

FALL AND WINTER FASHIONS.—Everybody is of course interested in knowing what are the fashions. We have, therefore, lipped the following from an undoubted authority, for the benefit of our male readers: "The fashion for frock-coats during the coming fall and winter will be the Prince Albert style—double-breasted and short in the skirt, which has been worn during the past season. It will be even somewhat more abreviated than heretofore. The colors are to be blue, black, olive or brown, as may be desired. Entire suits of English and Scotch black and gray plaids will also be in vogue. A similar frock-coat will be worn for evening half-dress suits in making calls, &c., the materials being meltons and plain dark beavers of various shades.

"The full-dress evening suit for receptions and small gatherings still consists of a black dress-coat, with black vest and black pantaloons. The ball and opera costumes are to be composed of a blue, olive or claret dress-coat, with pantaloons to match of similar colors, a white vest, and light plaid pantaloons. To this decided innovation over the late funeral garb, a few adventurous spirits may add brass buttons, in the style of twenty-five years ago.

"For sporting and driving-coats and vests, velveteens will continue to have the preference, the colors being brown, dark green or olive, and the pantaloons of light shades.

"Pantaloons will continue in the present somewhat tight style, fitting in the same manner round the boot, but will be loosened at the sides than formerly. The material will be chiefly of gray plaids.

"Vests for day wear will be of the present gay and varied colors, cut low, with plain rolls. The light fancy vests for day and evening, will be of white cashmeres and linens, full and double-breasted, in the English lappel style, and buttoned high. For exclusive evening wear they are to be cut low, with three buttons and a rolling collar.

"Hats will be much similar to the style of last spring, with low, ball crowns, and brims rather broad; but they will be, if anything, slightly lower, more of the bell shape, and with greater curve in the rim. Of the low-crowned hats, the broad, straight-brimmed Wharton style, of a drab color, is to be much worn, with a wide, contrasting black band, resembling mourning. The other styles of hats in use will continue of the same pattern and as varied as heretofore.

"Boots and shoes will be rounded at the toes, and similar in style to those now in use."

TO THE PUBLIC.—The following address to the public, of which several thousand copies have been printed for distribution, has just been issued by the Board of Statistics, Immigration and Labor Exchange: The object of this Association is to invite and encourage immigration into Oregon; to provide employment for immigrants on their arrival, and assist them in [illegible] for settlement. There is a stream of population from Europe and the States of the Atlantic coast moving westward. That our State may secure a fair share of this population, it is only necessary that a truthful [illegible] ation of the climate and natural resources of this State should be spread abroad.

[illegible] to disseminate throughout the Atlantic States and Europe, such statistical and other information respecting the agricultural, commercial, manufacturing and other resources of the State, as can be collected together for that purpose; to ascertain where public lands [illegible] settlement, or private lands for sale or rent; where and in all reliable sources throughout the country where skilled and unskilled labor can be used in all the branches of industry; to solicit and receive applications from employers of every description of labor for laborers [illegible]; and to communicate to employers of labor [illegible] persons seeking employment or permanent [illegible] in Oregon, all useful information within the [illegible] of the Association.

[illegible] that the community generally will co-operate [illegible] and contribute to its support [illegible] by their sympathy and assistance in other [illegible].

[illegible] every farmer, merchant, mechanic and manufacturer in the State can contribute some statistical information [illegible] of lands subject to pre-emption [illegible] of private lands for sale or rent. It will [illegible] that persons want employment or lands if [illegible] where either is to be obtained.

[illegible] information of every description, donations of [illegible] pamphlets containing statistics bearing upon [illegible] of Oregon, educational and religious statistics [illegible] of this nature will be received by the [illegible] and meet with proper appreciation.

[illegible] of the Association provides that no [illegible] to be made for any business transacted at [illegible].

[illegible] The Mt. Hood party, consisting of Messrs. [illegible], John Hughes, Jos. Buchtel, Ed. Elliott, [illegible], B. B. Acker, of Portland, and Ben. [illegible] Thos. Bell, of Milwaukie, returned last evening [illegible] been absent eight days. They left Portland [illegible] Friday morning, arrived at Mt. Hood Friday [illegible] on Saturday, Messrs. Holladay, Acker [illegible] climbed the ascent of Mt. Hood. Finding the [illegible] condition of the snow such as to make [illegible] not only extremely difficult but dangerous, they [illegible]. The expedition before reaching even the neighborhood of the summit. The boys declare they have [illegible] a trip which afforded them more real [illegible] this. They had a splendid outfit, hunted [illegible] had a jolly good time generally. They killed [illegible] and great numbers of birds, and caught lots [illegible]. Two of the bears killed weighed 200 lbs each. [illegible] furnished by Mr. Jos. Holladay, who [illegible] not only a generous entertainer but a [illegible] spirit of the expedition. Elsewhere will be [illegible] compliment to him, in the way of acknowledgment from the rest of the party.

[illegible] Our correspondent at Astoria sends [illegible] under date 28th: Steamship Moses [illegible] 1100 [illegible] and 50 half bbls salmon at this [illegible], and left the wharf at half past nine A. M. [illegible] Gray and wife sailed on the Moses Taylor [illegible] to be absent a few months on account of [illegible] Mrs. Gray.

[illegible] are out calling for bids for boating [illegible] the quarry on the opposite side of the river to [illegible] for use in the construction of the United States [illegible]. Bids [illegible] to be in by the 29th inst.

[illegible] DAMAGES.—It is stated that Mary and John [illegible] of [illegible] county, have brought suit in the [illegible] against John Wilson, proprietor of the [illegible] Circus, to recover $5,000 for damages sustained by Mrs. O'Reilly by the falling of the seats at [illegible] of the circus at Oregon City. Mrs. [illegible] had her leg broken. Mr. Wilson gave her $75 [illegible] which was all that was then demanded.

[illegible] COURT.—Salem, Monday, Sept. 27th: No [illegible] this morning.

[illegible] and Meier, respondent, vs. S. Coffin, [illegible] and Stephens and Terwilliger vs. Hannah, et. [illegible] and submitted.

[illegible] vs. Hexter was taken up and [illegible] the Court adjourned until to-morrow.

[illegible] ENGINE HOUSE.—The ordinance providing for the purchase of grounds for the site of an engine house for Engine Co. No. 4, directs that the Committee on Fire and Water and the Mayor shall purchase [illegible] not exceeding twenty-five hundred dollars, a [illegible] suitable size, located somewhere between [illegible] and Columbia streets, and Front and Fourth [illegible].

[illegible]—Our evening cotemporary some[illegible] English words around in the most fearfully [illegible]. His last achievement was an item informing [illegible] that Mr. John Wilson, of the Great [illegible] is going to put his horses for the winter, [illegible] "improvished!" Is this something [illegible]?

[illegible] ESTATE SALE.—Mr. A. B. Richardson, auctioneer, [illegible] at sale, at 10 o'clock this morning, at his [illegible], some choice homestead property one piece at [illegible] and Fourth streets, with two dwellings; [illegible] several lots and fractions in block 88, [illegible], with large dwelling, fruit trees, etc.

[illegible] ON THE TAPIS.—We learn that [illegible] [illegible] F. (German), will give a grand public [illegible] on the 10th of October, for benevolent purposes. [illegible] committees have not yet been appointed, [illegible] the place been selected. These matters will be [illegible] in a few days, however.

[illegible]—The Committee on Streets and Public [illegible] the Street Commissioner will receive sealed [illegible] until noon to-day, for the improvement of Front [illegible] Main and Madison. The ordinance directing [illegible] improvement, provides for Nicolson pavement [illegible] walks.

[illegible]—Pat. Smith informs the Commercial [illegible] large number of horses are constantly training [illegible] track is in splendid condition. A number of [illegible] stalls and business stands are in process of [illegible] and very extensive preparations being made in [illegible].

[illegible]—A note from the Dalles informs us that [illegible] Hand of the Mountaineer, is preparing to start [illegible] the East, on the 15th of next month, to [illegible] to his old home and relatives. When Bill [illegible] send along our fraternal blessing.

[illegible]—Mr. J. M. Johns, of Yamhill, [illegible] in this city subscriptions to the capital stock [illegible] Canal Company. He has thus far [illegible], several of our citizens having [illegible].

[illegible] GONE.—The St. Clairs did not start for Puget [illegible] Monday. They only went to Vancouver, and [illegible] yesterday. To-day they go to Astoria and [illegible] go to the Sound.

[illegible]—Two men, Coughlan and John Johnson, were [illegible] sent to jail by the Recorder for assault and [illegible], the first for five and the latter for two days.

[illegible] NICOLSON.—The Nicolson improvement [illegible] street has been completed to Taylor street, and is [illegible] pushed along toward Madison.

[illegible] ASSESSMENTS.—A warrant for the collection of delinquent assessments for street improvements, has been placed in the hands of the Marshal.

[illegible]—The steamship Geo. S. Wright will [illegible] on Thursday, the 10th, for Victoria, direct. She [illegible] visit the Sound ports on this trip.

[illegible] BAIL.—Jack Harris has succeeded in procuring the whole amount of bail required—$2,000—and is now [illegible].

[illegible] TO BE RESUMED.—The stated rehearsals by [illegible] Society, are to be resumed next Friday

VARIETIES.

They vary the paternal blessing in Sullivan county, Indiana. There it is "take her and be d—d."

Only fancy! eighteen women in the public lecturing field, in addition to those in the Caudle line. Tilton, this is terrible.

A very modest person in Paris has disfigured a beautiful group of statuary by breaking a bottle of ink upon it, because the figures represented were nude.

Mrs. Lucy Stone said in an address to the woman suffrage convention in Chicago that "when women vote you won't have to pay so much for votes as you do now."

Here is a peculiarly Frenchy remark in a Paris feuilleton: "Two women are necessary to make the life of a man complete: the woman he loves and the woman who loves him."

An English correspondent of a western paper viewed the boat race through an opera glass, which, he said, was so good, "that you can hear the shout of the Oxford coxswain as he presses his men to their work."

It is estimated that the cotton crop of the South this year will amount to three hundred millions of dollars. Does not this speak well for a people who have been misruled, bedevilled and oppressed as they have been by the Radical usurpers?

The San Francisco Call deprecates the brutal insult to the two Chinese merchants at the California Theater, and tells its Democratic brethren who perpetrated the outrage, that it will do no good to their cause of anti-Coolieism.

Nowadays, if a Democrat don't like the platform of one State all he has to do is to cross the border into another. In almost every State the party has a different platform.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—We, of the party which has just returned from a trip to Mt. Hood, wish to publicly acknowledge the munificent hospitality of Mr. Jos. C. Holladay, who insisted upon defraying the entire expenses of the journey. We are indebted to him for a trip which, for genuine enjoyment, will rarely again fall to the lot of any of us.

TO HEBREW PARENTS—RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.—Dr. Eckman has commenced imparting religious instruction to the children of those parents who may be desirous of committing their children under the (almost paternal) care of a man whose truly religious character and simplicity have ever most extraordinarily attuned his mind to that of simple childhood, and exercised a "magnetic" power over the juveniles brought within his influences which unregenerate minds can never acquire. The instructions will, till the new Synagogue will be completed, be given at the Washington Armory Hall, next building to the Portland Library. Till then, they will be given on the Sabbath and Holy days, after the close of the regular morning service.

By order of the President.
s17 P. LEVIN, Secretary.

Catholic Library.—The regular quarterly meeting will be held at the rooms on Thursday evening, Sept. 30th, at 7½ o'clock. The Rev. Father Weninger will be present and deliver an address. The parishioners are invited to attend. By order

THE EQUALIZER!

Treating Disease by Vacuum

DR. H. A. BODMAN

HAVING PURCHASED HADFIELD'S EQUALIZER and the Patent Right for Multnomah county, would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally that he is prepared to treat [illegible] fully those Chronic cases on whom all other [illegible] of cure have failed.

Having used this Instrument in connection with his former practice for about three months, he is satisfied that it will accomplish all that is claimed for it in curing Chronic Diseases. He does not believe in the system of advertising [illegible] cured, but any number of such may be seen on record at his office, [illegible] of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Curvature of the Spine, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Weak [illegible], Narrow Chests, Weak Lungs, Weak Backs, Weak, Stiff and Rheumatic Limbs, Sciatica, Cramps, Epilepsy, Palsy, St. Vitus Dance, Prolapsus Uteri, Obstructed [illegible] tion, with all their [illegible], Impotency and all kinds of weakness of the Generative Organs, Spermatorrhea [illegible] confidently [illegible] in from four to six weeks without medicine.

He uses other remedies when [illegible], but the Equalizer generally performs the cure without the aid of any medicines whatever. It brings a greater supply of blood and nutrition to all weak parts, thus creating new life and tone, and health, and strength in those parts. It breaks up congestion and inflammation by equalizing the circulation throughout every part of the system.

Give it a fair trial and you will be satisfied with the results. It has been [illegible] by [illegible] of all Schools of Medicine, and there has not been one dissenting voice to the [illegible] of the principle; all acknowledge that it fills a vacuum in the Science of Medicine.

Hiring a Brakeman

Many years since, soon after the opening of the Norwich and Worcester Railroad a stout looking innocent about six feet in his stockings, with thews and thighs to match stood in the depot at Worcester with evident admiration at the bran new cars and snorting locomotive which had just arrived at the station A roguish citizen who stood near him watched his undisguised wonder attentively and drawing near entered into conversation with him

He was "down from Vermont after work and wanted to get a chance on one o' these here rail roads"

"Du" said the other "Why don't you go and see the super ntendent"

"Wal I would ef I knew whar to find him"

"Oh! then come along with me—I'm going right by his office!"

Accordingly off went the twain straight to the store where the demurest of all hoaxers Jem B stood like a patriachal spider waiting for an unsophisticated human fly that might flounder into his net

"Ah!" said the wag who acted as pilot, "there he is Here's a young man Mr B who wants a berth on the road as brakeman"

Jem was posted immediately

"Well I don't know We've had a good many applications for the post and in fact, I had engaged a man to go out upon the train but as he is not up to his engagement, I will talk to you Have you been accustomed to railroading?"

"Wa-a-l no, I ain't but I guess I could learn it mighty soon What's the wages?"

"Thirty-six dollars a month and clothes"

"Very well, then I'll send you out on this train but I wish to put you on your guard with reference to one matter, and that is, there is a set of troublesome fellows continually hanging round the train, pretending to belong to the road Some of them may interfere with you If they do put them off the cars at once—tell them I put you on the train, and take no orders or impudence from any of them As to your duties, when you hear one whistle, screw on your brakes, if two alarms are sounded, screw them down hard, and then when three are given, loosen the brakes for the train to go on I'll go with you and put you on the train You return here to-night and then I will see about your boarding place."

Accordingly, down they went to the station and there the pretended superintendent showed his employee the brakes, and the mode of using them—leaving him with fresh injunction to "knock down any one who attempted to interfere with him."

Before many minutes the Vermonter had a customer The whistle sounded, and on went the brake

"What are you doing there with that brake?" shouted the legitimate brakeman "Jump off there in a hurry, if you don't want your head broke."

Jonathan looked at the rude interrogator (a small man) with contempt, but disdained to reply

S-h-ree-e-e-e! whoo! went the whistle, and the new brakeman screwed away for life, until snap went the chain

This was a cap too much, and off went the infuriated little brakeman for assistance

"What are you doing there?" asked the conductor, who returned with the man, and stepping upon the car, he placed his hand upon Jonathan with a view to summary ejectment. A brief struggle ensued, at the termination of which the conductor lay sprawling upon his back, with the small brakeman's head jammed between his legs

"Come on, you darned heathins!" shouted Jonathan, now fairly roused—"come on! I'll larn ye to cut up yer didoes about me. I'm hired, I be. Mr. [illegible] hired me for this biziness, and of I don't larn ye ter ten yar own it'll be cos yer stouter'n I be."

A fresh struggle ensued between our hero and some half dozen others employed on the train, who had gathered around, and Jonathan was finally overpowered, when an explanation took place, and the superintendent's "store" was sought for, but could not be found, as the incorrigible wag had not [illegible] so incautious as to make the [illegible] to his own store, and although he was strongly suspected as being the author of the too practical joke, no proof could be had, for by a shrewd management of the muscles of the face, and cool assurance, aided by a different dress, he succeeded in arguing Jonathan out of his suspicion, the latter having charged him with the hoax The best part of the joke was the denouement. The actual superintendent, hearing of the affair, and the indomitable pluck displayed by the Vermonter, sent for him, and did really engage him, and it is said that he now fills an important post upon one of the great Western railroads.

San Diego and Gila River Railroad.

(From the San Francisco Commercial Herald.)

W. J. Gatewood, President of the San Diego railroad, accompanied by his staff, and Generals W. L. Rosecrans, N. S. Hunter, T. S. Sedgwick, the Hon. B. F. Axtell, and others interested, left the city for San Diego last Wednesday, and the work will be prosecuted with vigor forthwith Contracts have been made with Risdon & Co for iron work of all kinds, and full supplies of stores have been purchased. The greatest difficulty anticipated on this end of the route is in the deficiency of water supplies while working on the Colorado desert, but we apprehend that obstacle is exaggerated, as water can be obtained anywhere on the desert by digging from fifteen to thirty feet, according to locality. By running the line direct from Antelope Peak to Tucson, a distance of ninety miles can be saved, and much money economized It would also tap the richest copper mines in this section of the Union, and avoid all chances of damage from the annual overflow of the Gila, which changes its bed nearly every year, and in some places to the extent of several miles. Such great repeated changes would expose the road to the chances of much damage The direct road would lead over a succession of high, level mesas of volcanic appearance, separated by inconsiderable gullies or intervals, which could be bridged at comparatively small expense We learn that the road will be laid out as straight a line as possible, and we know of no serious obstacle in the way It is positively certain that the Pacific railroad can never do the business between this coast and the Atlantic By the time the southern road is constructed there will be more than enough to employ three such lines, and a healthy competition between them cannot but be advantageous to every interest In winter, particularly, the southern route will be selected, as it will not be blocked or encumbered with snow, while the climate is in every respect superior, and the country through which it must pass possesses every attribute for farming, mining, and manufacturing enterprises There are no such heights to climb, no such obstacles to surmount, as were met and overcome on the existing railroad. For hundreds of miles very little grading will be required, and along much of the route the very best of mesquite wood can be had in great abundance for ties and other timber work One of the greatest commercial benefits which San Francisco could experience would be the building up of San Diego into a large and populous city. If there were no Philadelphia, no Boston, and no Baltimore, the city of New York would not to day be the great place it is It is with no ordinary gratification that we note the vigorous manner in which the San Diego and Gila River Railroad has been taken in hand, and the energy which marks the movements of those having charge of the work In less than five years we may be rejoicing in the possession of another great trans continental artery of trade and travel

Another Harold Skimpole.—My father used to tell, with great unction a little incident of his life. He knew a song-writer a favorite singer in the world's ear but who got only a small account of rapeseed for his writing. He had delicate tastes or he had not sung the harmony which bewitched his hearers, and he lacked the philosophy which teaches the poet to combine plain living with high thinking He was an epicure, with a journeyman's income—in other words, one of the unhappiest of men. It chanced that one certain spring morning my father met him feasting, in imagination, upon the tempting stalls of the central avenue in Covent Garden Market The poet's hand played with a void in his pocket, while his eyes dwelt rapturously upon a buxom woman who, her bonnet ribbons thrown over her shoulders to catch the first summer breeze, was shelling peas, daintily as the jeweler drops pearls into a bowl. The two friends strolled together Presently the poet asked his friend, protesting that the world was but fetting him unto death, for the loan of a sovereign

"I have positively not eaten a dinner this week," said the lyric genius The sovereign was lent, and the two strolled on They paused before the vegetable show of the avenue Three or four cucumbers lay cool and with unbroken bloom, upon a bed of fresh leaves.

"Cucumbers! Not a slice have I tasted this season!" said the bard "The price?"

"Half a guinea each, sir," said the shopwoman, gazing loving upon them.

"And cheap they are Fold me up one" And the sovereign was placed in the woman's hands as though it came from a pocket which commanded the bank-cellars "To day," quoth the poet "I shall dine"—Blanchard Jerrold

The Late Senator Fessenden—The Cause of His Death The Portland (Me) Press of September 10th says

A post mortem examination of the body of Senator Fessenden was made by Dr Foster of this city yesterday morning Drs Perley of Bridgton, Horatio Smith of New York Wood Gilman and Davies of this city, and Dr Fessenden surgeon in charge of the Marine Hospital and brother of the Senator being in attendance It was found that just above where the small bowels enter into the larger the canal had contracted so as to be entirely closed and the bowels for a foot or more above the obstruction were in a high state of inflammation A perforation was also found above the obstruction and it was the opinion of the physicians that at the time he first called the doctor on Tuesday, the 31st day of August he had made this rupture and that human skill could avail nothing toward saving his life and that when he felt the severe pain, a few hours before his death, after returning to his bed he probably increased this rupture bringing on immediate dissolution that this trouble had been coming on some time back Senator Fessenden having been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa for at least a year past and that the few days before the physicians were called the constipation which he looked upon as a favorable sign toward restoring a healthy action to the system was really a most alarming symptom
